FAMILY DAY AT THE BRITISH LIBRARY

We had a fun filled day today! There were lots of things going on! There were a couple of creative spaces for families to relax and enjoy the sensory toys. We spent some time there because the children got stuck into it. The children also explored the underwater world through dance and using their imagination. They had a blue parachute and the children pretended to 'swim' under 'the ocean'! We ended the festival by watching a performance in the Pigott Theatre. The children seemed to enjoy it a lot because they started singing and dancing with the puppet called 'Bleh'! Fatema
